

Sanders is looking for the best hospitality staff to join our carefully curated team!

We are seeking a dedicated chefs for Sanders Kitchen.

In late 2017 Copenhagen's hotel scene will get a unique addition with the launch of Sanders, a boutique hotel focusing on unpretentious, understated luxury. The privately-owned hotel will be deeply rooted in the creative history of its owner, Alexander Kølpin, as well as its location; Sanders is situated in the royal part of Copenhagen, and the completely refurbished building used to be a hotspot for the city's theatre scene. With its small number of luxurious rooms, an ambitious, yet relaxed dining experience, classic cocktail bar and casual, elegant lounge areas - one of them a conservatory on the rooftop - the hotel will be a playful and intimate meeting place for international hotel guests and Copenhagen's creative crowd.

At Sanders, we are thorough with everything we do and believe that working at Sanders is a part of our lifestyle. We are searching for individuals who share these values.

We expect you to be attentive, and passionate about your work and our guests. We also expect you to be curious and comfortable in a creative environment, with a genuine pleasure in exceeding guest expectations, by creating bespoke and carefully curated guest experiences.

Although experience is desirable, we are specifically looking for those who are a good fit with the Sanders ethos, so please include a few words on why you think we are the right match.

Please send your CV and cover letter including a recent picture to jobs@hotelsanders.com. For further questions regarding the position, please contact Thomas Hust, Head Chef, th@hotelsanders.com
